PSD Partners is a 'boutique' executive search firm. We deliver a direct global search capability. We have proven that the most effective method of getting the best global Executive and Leadership talent is by focused executive search. We not only look for those on the market, at a particular point in time, PSD Partners source the best. Our consultative approach works.

Who we work with?

Through our executive search, we work with entrepreneurial growth phase businesses that are expanding internationally, helping them to find the best leadership talent required to drive their expansion - globally.

We do not outsource to multiple overseas executive search offices or an international executive search firm network. Each of our partners manages the process directly with his fellow Partners, so no part of the process is delegated to less experienced colleagues or researchers.
